The walk starts in the picturesque village of Loubens, nestling in the foothills of the Pyrenees, hidden from the main tourist route (D919) from Toulouse to Foix. The route climbs out of the village up to the top of the ridge above, along the ridge line past a TV mast at the highest point, before returning to the village in an anti-clockwise loop.

On leaving the car park next to the tennis court in the centre of Loubens, head east out of the village past the church, in the direction of Pamiers. At the cemetery, adjacent to the church, turn left onto the yellow way marked path leading through the trees directly up the hillside. Follow this path upwards and to the right. You will enter the edge of an oak wood; the path continues up and to the right following a small ridge line. You will after about 25-30 mins come out on to a metallic road; turn left on this farm road following the sign 'Le Pech de Limouzy'. After passing a farm on your right on a bend, 200m further on you take a signposted and yellow marked track up the side of a field and into the woods. This track will bring you out on the top of the ridge after about another 20-25 mins. Continue straight ahead. You will now get fantastic 360 degrees views from the Montagne Noir to the east all the way round to Pic du Midi de Bigorre in the west. Continue along the track up to the high point 'Le Pech de Limouzy' passing the television mast. After a partial descent the main track bears to the left at an old ruin. Take this track, which immediately descends; after approximately 800m the track levels out and turns right; you must continue straight on at this point; look out for a yellow VTT mountain biking sign with dots and an arrow which is attached to a tree. Carefully follow this path observing the yellow markers that direct you back to the village which can be seen in the valley to your front. In the village centre turn left towards the church, returning to the car park.
